

THE GUISBORIAN.

No. 13.

JULY, 1909.

EDITORIAL.

The venerable Abbey Arch has looked down in solemn interest on a larger number of boys in the School this term than at any time since Robert Pursglove established this Foundation for the "erudition of the young." This increase and record in the number of the School must needs find first place in this issue of the "GUISBORIAN," that it may be memoria traditum in due and proper form. We write this subject to correction. In olden time there was no school Magazine to record the doings of the day and the prowess of the past. The registers too were either not kept or have been lost. But judging from the size of the only Schoolroom which existed in the Old School buildings it is hardly likely or possible that there were ever more than 50 boys in the School. We have this term reached 66. In multitudine nulla salus sed maxima spes.

SCHOOL NOTES.

We congratulate Hugill on being awarded a £30 Scholarship of the North Riding County Council.

Barker, Craggs, Knight and Hugill all passed the Preliminary Certificate Examination, the latter getting distinction in French, Latin, Mathematics, and Science, and coming out top of all boys entered from North Riding Schools.

We offer our best wishes to Locklin Harrison on his marriage which took place this term.

We hope to include in our next issue an Account of our Second Caravan Tour which commences on Wednesday, August 4th. Sit propitius Jupiter pluvius!
